ADVENTURE

While in a dungeon on a mission, there are many "enemy" Pokémon that will attack you. Rescue as many Pokémon in trouble as possible by mastering the ways of battling.

Turn-based battles!

The battles in dungeons use a turn-based system. When your Pokémon moves one step, all enemies on the floor do the same. When you attack once, the enemies attack once. Each time this happens, it's called a "turn." If you don't make any actions, the enemy Pokémon will do nothing as well. Make sure you don't rush yourself, you have time to think the battles through carefully.

Take advantage of your Moves in battle

You can get more Exp. Points when you defeat an enemy using Moves instead of regular attacks. Once you set a Move, you can use it by simply pressing the L and A Buttons together.

Check Pokémon type

Pokémon and Moves have their own types. There are matchup advantages and disadvantages. For example, Water type has an advantage against Fire type. Pay attention to type, and use the right Move against the right enemy.

Status changes

If you are affected by a status change (such as Paralysis, Poison, or Burn) by an enemy Pokémon's attack, restore yourself using Seeds or Berries. You can also be restored by moving to the next floor.

Utilize items

Gravelerocks are very useful in battles. If you throw it at an enemy Pokémon that is far away, it can do significant damage to them before you get close. There are many items you can throw. If you set an item, you can throw it easily by pressing the L and R Buttons (see page 23).

DUNGEONS

In dungeons, there is danger awaiting you. Fear not, if you know how to handle yourself in a dungeon, there is nothing to worry about!

How to Check the Dungeon Map

- White dot

Your location.

- Yellow dot

Team member's location.

- Red dot

Enemy Pokémon's location.

- Blue dot

Item location.

- Blue square

Stairs location.

Dungeons change every time

Every time you enter a dungeon, the layout changes. The way the rooms are connected and the location of the stairs changes everytime you go into a dungeon— even the same one.

Watch the weather carefully

Dungeons are affected by weather, such as clear, cloudy, rainy, and sandstorm. Depending on a Pokémon's type, some will take damage while some attacks are actually raised by the weather.

Restoring HP in a dungeon

Even though your HP is decreased from enemy attacks, it is restored little by little as you walk around in a dungeon. If you want your HP to recover quicker, press and hold the A and B Buttons at the same time. Since this causes turns to proceed while standing still, your HP will restore very quickly. Be careful, if you do this, your Belly decreases and enemy Pokémon will also gather around you.

ITEMS

Items are indispensable when you're on a rescue mission. Make sure you understand completely what effect each item has.

You can find items in many places.

Items can be obtained many ways, such as picking them up in a dungeon, buying them at shops, and having them given to you by a client after a successful mission. Since items have various effects, use them carefully.

Check the effect of items.

Have you found an item that you don't know how to use? If so, check the "Info" of the item under the "Items" command. This way, you can use items efficiently.
